We are stars wrapped in skin, destined to meet, destined to collide, destined to burn brighter together. And now, in the quiet between now and forever, I can already feel the promise of a thousand sunrises with you — just us, chasing dreams, dancing through storms, and writing our forever story."

Some love stories are written in books, others are written in the stars. Ours is written in every moment we've shared, every smile we've exchanged, every tear we've wiped, and every dream we've dared to dream — together. And now, we're only days away from beginning the greatest chapter yet."

ASHISH NEHA

"This isn't just a countdown to our wedding — it's a countdown to the start of everything we ever dreamed of. Laughter in the little things, strength in the storms, joy in the everyday moments, and love love that only grows deeper, stronger, and more magical with every passing day."
